The atheistic theory of evolution, on the contrary, rejects the assumption of a soul separate from matter, and thereby sinks into blank materialism. (3) Darwinism and the theory of evolution are by no means equivalent conceptions. The theory of evolution was propounded before Charles Darwin's time, by Lamarck (1809) and Geoffroy de Saint-Hilaire.

Evolution | Catholic Answers

The Church has never condemned the theory of evolution and has actually been fairly receptive to it: Pope Pius XII's Humani Generis. The Teaching Authority of the Church does not forbid that, in conformity with the present state of human sciences and sacred theology, research and discussions, on the part of men experienced in both fields, take place with regard to the doctrine of evolution ...

Early contributions to biology were made by Catholic scientists such as Jean-Baptiste Lamarck and the Augustinian friar Gregor Mendel. Since the publication of Charles Darwin's On the Origin of Species in 1859, the attitude of the Catholic Church on the theory of evolution has slowly been refined. For nearly a century, the papacy offered no authoritative pronouncement on Darwin's theories.

Catholic Church and evolution - Wikipedia

The official catholic position is that evolution is fact, so they have accepted science, but many catholics still do not accept it. As for 'christians' catholics are christians, a denomination of them to be specific. In the US 'christian' is usually used specifically to generalize to protestant groups so I suppose it's an easy mistake to make.
